Bleadon Village Car Park

Getting there

Bleadon lies to the right just off the main A370 running between Junction 22 of the M5 and Weston-Super-Mare. The village car park is just before the church on the left. Buses run regularly between Burnham-on-Sea and Weston-Super-Mare. Some travel direct along the A370 whilst others travel via Brean and join the A370 to the north of the village. If travelling by bus you will need to alight on the main A370 close to the village and then walk to the start.

Refreshments are available at the village pub which is on the left just past the first right turn on the walk.

There is also a large family pub (The Hungry Horse) at the junction with the A370 to the north of the village.

Route instructions
